Enjoy a brighter, cleaner, healthier workspace with our leather cleaning & restoration services

Working with many different industries including hotels, restaurants, offices and schools, our cleaning, restoration and recolouring of all types of leather can save your business a huge expense in replacement costs. Plus there's no upheaval or time lost due to closures as we come to you and carry out all work on-site

One of our recent leather restorations – worn and faded leather benches seating up to 70 guests in a renowned city centre restaurant. See the difference we've made compared to how this bench looked before our restoration work

If you have leather furniture at home or in your workplace that has years of use left to give, but is looking tired and worn, Zerodrytime can help...

What we do for you

PROFESSIONAL CLEANING ANILINE RESTORATION

Over time, dirt and grime can get into the grain of your leather furniture and make your much loved investment look grubby and tired. Using our own specialist cleaning products, we can deep clean and reapply a protective coating making everything look as good as new

Aniline leather is a natural-looking type of leather that can be porous and much more susceptible to staining than other leathers. Using professional products and techniques we are able to clean, remove stains and restore the colour to your aniline leather furniture

COLOUR RESTORATION PET DAMAGE RESTORATION

Long-term exposure to sunlight can cause serious fading and colour loss to your leather furniture that is impossible to fix yourself. We can restore the colour of your suite, whether its small areas of colour loss or the whole suite, that needs to be brought back to life

Cats and dogs can cause a lot of damage to leather furniture with their sharp claws and equally sharp teeth. Using specialist techniques, we can repair most claw marks, bite holes and rips caused by pets, and restore the furniture so it looks its very best once more

CAR LEATHER UPHOLSTERY COLOUR MATCH SERVICE

Car interiors take a lot of wear and tear from getting in and out, not to mention the dirt and wet. No wonder they can start to look shabby over time. Our skills offer a fantastic opportunity to get your leather seats restored to an absolute perfect finish!

Using the latest colour analysing technology, we provide accurate colour matched pigments to assist our technicians in creating the perfect repair. So whether you are restoring a sun damaged sofa, matching a replacement panel or requiring colour to conceal a cosmetic repair, we can help
